Every number on the programme was good and much appreciated by the audience. The accompanists for the evening were Miss Smith and Mr. Wm. Moffatt who did their part in remarkably good style.

Claresholm is indeed fortunate in having such an array of first class musical talent.

Considerable delay was caused at the opening by the electric lights going out.

The dance after the concert was well attended and continued to the wee small hours.

The music for the dance was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Tuck and the Claresholm Mandolin Orchestra.

Bad Accident

While attempting to get on a moving train at Stavely last Tuesday night, Dave Fields who is well known around here had the misfortune to slip and had one foot badly crushed under the wheels. He was taken to Macleod hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the leg about half way between the ankle and knee. Dr. Lear was wired for and met the train here. He accompanied the patient to Macleod and assisted in the operation.

Card of Thanks

O. J. Amundsen and family wish to express their sincere thanks to the many friends who by their ready and tactful sympathy brought much appreciated comfort in their sad bereavement during the illness and death of their little Harold.

Entry By Proxy

Instructions have been received by Dominion Land agents from the Department of the Interior to allow what is known as entries by proxy for homesteads. Any member of a man's family may make entry for a homestead for him. No other proxy is allowed, however. The person in whose name the entry is made must appear at the land office within six months to perfect the entry or it is cancelled. This proxy system is obviously a great convenience to prospective homesteaders.—Ex.

LOCAL BASE-BALL

Queens Hotel VS Town A Good Game To See

It is not a difficult task to get up considerable base-ball excitement in this town on short notice. On Friday evening last a team selected from the bantams at the Queens Hotel played a team chosen from the rest of the town and all that they were defeated by a score of 5 to 3 yet they gave the town team a good fight. From a rooters stand-point the game was good. Each team was strongly supported by those who gave them plenty of loud encouragement. The batteries were for the Queens' Noble and Ross and for the town Geits and Brown. Umpire C. J. Braren.

LEAVINGS

CELEBRATION

A Good Time Enjoyed By All Who Were Present

The annual celebration held in Leavings July 18th, proved to be the most successful in her history. The crowd was large and with the exception of a small shower in the afternoon the day was fine. In fact the early afternoon and evening were ideal for sports. The horse racing was as good could be expected in a town the size of Leavings. The new race track west of the town was in good shape and every event was well contested. With the exception of an incident in one of the races everything was pulled off in fine shape and the committee in charge of the sports are to be congratulated on the success they made of everything. The accident referred to was caused by a blundered. Police officer who in attempting to drive a dog off the track got in the way of a horse in the three minute race. The contact resulted in the driver of the trotting horse being severely injured and the horse of the policeman being killed.

During the day two foot-ball matches were played. The first between Leavings and Rocky Coulee, in which Leavings proved victorious and then in the evening Claresholm and Leavings faced each other on the grounds close to town. This was one of the most hotly contested games of the season. A few changes in the make-up of the Leavings team made a wonderful improvement in the style of play put up by them.

The result of this was that the Claresholm team, after defeating them by 5 to 0 on Tuesday could only hold them to a score of 1 to 1 on this day.

The Claresholm team did however make second goal which was fair and clean as ever was made on a foot-ball field and the referee claimed that an offside play had been made sometime before would not allow the goal. It looked like a straight steal from our boys.

The sports for the day ended with a game of cricket made up of play ers of both Leavings and Claresholm

The dance in the evening was largely attended and a good time reported.

Many Claresholmites were present and all enjoyed themselves.

C.P.R. Conviction

Was Quashed

Appeal of the Company Against Conviction Under Lord's Day Act Upheld on Technicality.

The following is the full judgment of the court of queen's bench with reference to the appeal of the C.P.R. against their conviction for violating the provisions of the Lord's Day Act:

"The application to quash conviction against the Canadian Pacific Railway company for alleged violation of the Lord's Day Act at Claresholm on the 21st of March, A. D. 1907.

This is an application for a certiorari to bring up a conviction against the defendant made by John Risk and A. E. C. McMichael, Justices of the peace, under the authority of the Lord's Day Act, 1890, section 17. The Lord's Day Act, using the clause relating to breaking of the rest by corporations. The application was made to this court in accordance with the rules of this court without notice to the magistrates, and on their behalf objections was raised that the law in England as it was in 1870 which was the date of the original statute of the North-West Territories Act, required six days' notice of such an application. The rules of this court made in 1900, however, explicitly do away with the necessity of such notice and those rules were passed under the authority of section 502, 1890, of the original statute of Canada." I therefore think the power to make such rules is beyond question, and the application was properly made without notice.

In regard to the application itself, numerous points were given which were argued but in view of my opinion as regard to one of the points raised, it will be unnecessary to refer to the others. Section 17 of the Lord's Day Act is as follows:

"No action or prosecution for a violation of this act shall be commenced before the 20th day of the month in which the offence is alleged to have been committed, nor after the expiration of sixty days from the time of the commission of the alleged offence."

The leave herein provided for is without a question a condition precedent to the bringing of the action, and is necessary before the magistrate would have jurisdiction to start the proceedings by taking an information. In the present case no proper evidence of such leave having been granted was given to the magistrate.

This was practically admitted by the deputy attorney-general at Edmonton to the assistant commissioner of police at Regina by whom he assumed to give the leave of the attorney general for the bringing of this particular proceeding. I have serious doubts as to whether the deputy attorney-general can be given such a royal assent, and whether he is authorized to give it at all, which is open to question; but it is not necessary to decide that question as there is no doubt that this letter was not brought to the attention of the magistrate and, as the question is one of jurisdiction, the party bringing the proceeding will not be called upon by this court to bolster up the lack of evidence before the magistrate, and therefore the affidavit and exhibits are inadmissible for the purpose for which they were tendered.

My opinion, therefore, is that a certiorari should issue to bring up the conviction and that, on such certiorari being returned with the conviction, the conviction should be quashed.

Political Corruption

The courts, during the last few years have revealed an alarming condition of affairs in our country. After every election the courts are kept busy deciding who has a right to the seat contested for, and by the time they have finished, about one-third of the people are represented and the remaining two-thirds completely representing the various courts of the land.

Every trial reveals a state of corruption that is astounding, yet every corrective measure made law, simply serves to develop the resources of the politically deprived in devising ways and means to defeat the object of the said measure, never failing in attaining the end sought.

A condition of political immorality as deep seated and as-reaching as it is destructive of rights and freedom which is undermining the very foundation of our constitution.

From recent developments in the Dominion it appears that political criminal acts as they apply to elections is the high road to political perfidy.

Several sanguine election workers of a prominent city in Ontario are charged with the crime of perjury in obtaining the election of a gentleman who was to occupy a high position in the legislative halls of our country. Today a gentleman (?) is enjoying political patronage to the extent of $5,000 a year as a reward for his crime of subordination of party selflessness.

Petty treason, in conspiring to defraud the voter in exercising the rights of citizenship so common that it is no longer regarded with contempt.

The more skillful one becomes in managing trick ballot boxes, stuffing ballot or in any other way defrauding the will of the voter, the greater is the demand for his services by either the one party or the other.

The in a case of large corporations in their endeavor to control legislation in so far as they are concerned is too well known to need further comment.

The only remedy to purify the political atmosphere, that I can see, is to login with the voter. Instruct him in the principles of honesty citizenship and with this principal provide, wading all classes of people then and then only will the slur that rests upon us as a country be removed.
